About

As a dedicated and skilled software developer at HST Consulting PLC, I bring a robust set of skills in modern web development technologies, including Next.js, React, HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, Material-UI, and Tailwind CSS. My expertise extends to design with foundational skills in Figma, ensuring a comprehensive approach to both front-end development and user interface design. Passionate about advancing in the fields of prompt engineering, data science, and artificial intelligence, I continuously seek opportunities to expand my knowledge and stay at the forefront of technological innovations.
